HERMETIC Academy: expert knowledge in 30 minutes

Canned motor pumps in your refrigeration system.

In a compact and practical way, learn during our webinar sessions (from August 24th) how to select your canned motor pump for the use of natural refrigerants. Our experts will show you which advantages the different pump technologies have, as well as everything you need to know to avoid failures and how to operate smoothly your pump in your refrigeration system. Also, take the chance to learn how to select on your own, your refrigeration pump, through HERMETIC Expert Tool. You will receive valuable tips on design and a real-time simulation of the pump design and thus the optimization of the design parameters.
